WILCOX & GIBBS
SEWING MACHINE.

We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine, which renders it superior to any other in use:

It forms a flat elastic seam which will not rip in wear,

It is entirely noiseless;

A patented device prevents its being turned backward;

The needle cannot be set wrong;

Can be used successfully without other instructions than accompany the Machine;

It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute in 1863. For particulars, enquire of

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, April 10, 1866.

There has been no week within my remembrance so full of excitement in Congress as last week. From Monday morning to Friday night the excitement over the Civil Rights bill was intense, and it culminated on Friday night when the bill passed.

THE GREAT QUESTION IN CONGRESS.

The great question in the minds of Republicans was this—has the President the power to prevent the passing of the bill? It was a contest between the President and the people, and the people have triumphed. Take a single instance—that of Senator Morgan of New York. He voted for the bill originally, but the President was determined to secure his vote against the bill, for the position of this Senator was of immense value to him. Senator Morgan has tens of thousands of conservative men at his back in the State of New York, and the President wanted their influence in favor of his position. Thurlow Weed, the great "kingmaker," was working for the President, and in this city, the learned, the illustrious Secretary of State was beseeching Senator Morgan to stand by the President. On the other side stood a majority of the people of New York. The Union party of that State said to Senator Morgan, "Vote for the bill!" In all the State but one Republican journal stood by the President on this issue, and it cannot be honestly termed Republican. I allude to the New York Times, which is under the control of Mr. Raymond and Mr. Weed.

So stood this great case of President against people, and Senator Morgan, after weighing the subject with great deliberation, concluded that it was wise for him to side with the people. It was a great defeat for the President. The same contest occurred in the case of Jim Lane of Kansas, but what a miserable exchange the President made when he let Morgan go for Lane! On Thursday Lane was pledged for the bill—on Friday he went over to the President, in defiance of five sixths of the people of Kansas. The common report here is that he was persuaded by the President in the course of Thursday night to go for the veto by certain appointments. It may be so, and it may not. One thing is undeniable, which is that Lane betrayed the State of Kansas in the most infamous manner.

Doolittle, of Wisconsin, is another case in the same category. It was a betrayal of Wisconsin. So of Norton of Minnesota. There is now a more strong determination on the part of Republicans to put up true men for office than ever before. They have been so terribly cheated—first in Mr. Johnson, and then in prominent Senators. The only way is to select men of honor. If Doolittle, Norton and Dixon were only honorable men, there would be no trouble. This may seem a harsh allegation, but it is true. A treacherous man is not a man of honor, nor can he be. The President might think of this with benefit to himself and his policy.

In alluding to the debate in the Senate on the veto, I have said that Mr. Lane of Kansas changed his vote in a singular manner, or rather changed his mind. In looking over the official account of the debate, I perceive that he acknowledged that he would have voted for the bill the day before its passage:

Mr. Trumbull.—Will the Senator allow me to ask him if he himself did not vote for and support the civil rights bill?

Mr. Lane, of Kansas.—I did, in all its phases, and only yesterday I was willing to waive my objections to it, if such a plan could be adopted to quiet this country, restore those States, and preserve the Republican party intact, and to permit it to become a law in connection with other propositions to accomplish this great object.

Mr. Trumbull.—The Senator from Kansas will permit me to ask, then, if his support of a measure in the Senate of the United States depends on a bargain to get some other measure supported. Is that what he means to say to the Senate? I understand him to say now that he voted for the civil rights bills all its stages; a bill which the President was bound in vain that he was for it; that he would have voted for it yesterday, but he wants a bargain about something else before he will do it. Do I understand him aright, that he wants some other assurance?

Mr. Lane, of Kansas.—I offered no bargain. I make no bargains. But I feel the absorbing and overwhelming danger that is upon our country, and was willing to waive my objections to the bill, and permit it to pass. The whole of these State governments are revolving; there is no power on earth to stop them.

Then followed an interesting passage in reference to a new plan of reconstruction, which Mr. Lane referred to the Senate, which I must quote:

Mr. Trumbull.—I should like to make an inquiry, if the Senator from Kansas will allow me.

Mr. Lane, of Kansas.—Certainly.

Mr Trumbull.—It is somewhat important in this connection I understand the Senator to say that he relies upon the approval by the President of the proposition which he has submitted upon his letter to Governor Sharkey. That is the basis upon which he relies for supposing that the President would approve the measure which he now introduces. I would like to inquire of the Senator from Kansas if he has any stronger assurance of that, than was given by the annual message to Congress by the President of the United States when he said that he was in favor of securing all persons equal rights, and that under the American system every man was entitled to protection in his life, liberty and property. He has voted a bill securing those rights, which is now under consideration; and I want to know if there is any better assurance that he will approve of what he said in his Sharkey letter, than there was as to his approval of what he said in his annual message to the two Houses of Congress.

The point Mr Trumbull wanted to establish is this: The President will not sign any measure for the government of the rebellious States which Congress may pass—and this movement of Jim Lane's is but a miserable fetch to help him out of present difficulty. It is not supposed here that Lane would vote for his own proposition if it were to be vetoed. His policy is to keep sending measures to the President in the hope that they will be approved: if they are not, he will immediately acquiesce! It is not strange that Bluff Ben. Wade reiterated that Jim Lane wears a collar. "He wear a collar!" exclaimed Lane in a speech, the Senate laughing immoderately; "she went a collar!"

From all that I can learn the President feels pretty sore over the defeat of his veto. I think there can be no doubt on the subject. He sees that he is beaten in Congress at last, and there is no telling what may follow. He now regrets that he has gone so far—at least I think he does, and it is barely possible that he may be more moderate. His salvation depends upon it. If he attempts to go over to the enemy he will find himself soon without a really loyal friend in the country. He is now trying very hard to hold on to Messrs. Doolittle, Cowan and Dixon in the Senate, but he cannot do that much longer unless he is more moderate. Perhaps I mistake with reference to Cowan, as he is nowhere regarded as a Republican.

The excitement in the House over the passage of the Civil Rights bill, the veto to the contrary notwithstanding, was intense. I think it was the greater because of the singular management of the opposition. Instead of yielding gracefully to what was inevitable, the Copperhead leaders resorted to "dilatory motions," or "filibustering," and took up a full hour of the time of the House, and then broke down with shame. At last the vote was taken—if I mistake not at just twenty minutes past three o'clock. But one Unionist gave his vote against the bill. Two others—Bingham, of Ohio, and Stillwell, of Indiana—were paired with friends of the measure. This then is the strength of the President among the House Unionists—he has three friends there! Yet, as is well known, Bing

He Skulks, Sneaks and Evades.

Our readers will remember that for several days past we have been quoting liberally from the Pike County Democrat, a paper which was published and edited during the war by M. H. Abbott, the present editor of the Oregon Herald. We had a double reason for making those quotations; first, we desired to show who and what that man had been who comes to Oregon and denounces loyal people as fanatics and traitors, and second, we wished to prove by one of their own witnesses, the infamy of the record which the Democracy made during the war. We have quite a number of papers of different dates which bear the title of "Pike County Democrat." At the head of the first column, first page of these papers, we find the words: "Published every Thursday by Milton H. Abbott, Editor and Proprietor. Office one door east of the Union House, up stairs." At the head of the leading editorial column on the second page we find the words: "Official County Paper, Pittsfield, Ill., M. H. Abbott, Editor." These proofs, we think, will settle the question as to the genuineness of the paper, and the identity of its editor and proprietor. Now in making quotations from that excellent Democratic journal, we have always adhered with rigid accuracy to the text, never changing it in the slightest particular. This "Milton H. Abbott, editor," &c., it appears, is now publishing a Democratic paper in this city, and in that paper—the Herald—he sees fit to deny that he wrote some of the articles we have attributed to him. He confesses that he was editor and proprietor of the Democrat during the war, but at the same time informs us, and assures the public that he did not write nor endorse all of the treasonable articles that appeared in it. Though the name of "Milton H. Abbott" was pompously displayed in three places as "editor and proprietor," the said Milton H. Abbott now solemnly assures the Oregon public that he was in no way responsible, either for the editorials, or for the general matter which appeared in his paper! Observe that he does not once deny having published all which we have attributed to him; he merely selects certain expressions and paragraphs from among a great many of a like kind, and "defies" us to prove that he wrote them! So this is the only way of escape which M. H. Abbott can find, His last remaining resource is to deny the authorship of, or his responsibility for the articles which appeared in his paper during the time his own name was kept standing at its head as editor! He endeavors to sneak away from his record, and in a most unmanly way, to throw the blame and odium thereof on some one whom he had employed to do his vile and dirty and treasonable work. Who knows but when he is called to an account one of these days as he certainly will be for his calumniations through the Herald, that he will try to skulk and sneak away again, declaring that he does not so care, and is not responsible for the articles which appear in his paper? Who knows but that he will deny being the author of certain scurrilous articles which have appeared in the Herald, and triumphantly "defy" any one to prove that he "wrote" them? Who knows but he will again publish himself as a sneak, and be contented and even glad to find a refuge in so doing?

Mr. Lincoln's Position.

The Democratic party, with the boundless assurance for which it has ever been, distinguished, now undertakes to declare that Mr. Lincoln held the same views on reconstruction which it entertains. Reconstruction, by Democratic interpretation, signifies the immediate admission of the rebel members into Congress: "This, and nothing more." The agency of Congress in the work of restoration, the Democracy entirely deny. Now let us see what President Lincoln thought of this matter. Some days ago we published a dispatch from Secretary Seward to Minister Adams, giving a detailed account of the conference at Hampton Roads between President Lincoln and the rebel Commissioners. Here is a single point in that dispatch:

"It was further declared by the President that the complete restoration of the national authority was an indispensable condition of any assent on our part to whatever form of peace might be proposed. The President assured the other party that, while we must adhere to these positions, he would be prepared, so far as the power lodged with the Executive, to exercise liberality. His power is limited by the Constitution, and when peace should be made, Congress must concurr with it in regard to appropriations of money, and to the admission of representatives from the insurrectionary States."

From the above is it evident that President Lincoln regarded his authority in the work of reconstruction as inferior to that of Congress. His power, he acknowledged, was "limited" and subordinate; that of Congress superior and indispensable. The truth of this proposition is so plain that it would not be worth while to assert it were it not that the Copperheads are endeavoring to use the great name and example of President Lincoln to justify themselves for claiming absolute powers for the President.

THE GLORIOUS OLD FLAG.—The Union Central Committee of this county have fitted up the old Eureka Theater as a Union Club room, and flung to the breeze over the entrance, the glorious old flag under whose inspiring lead our loyal soldiers marched and fought through four years of cruel war, and which they planted at last, in triumph upon every fortification erected by the enemy.

> Forever float that standard sheet!
> Where breathes the foe but falls before us;
> With freedom's soil beneath our feet,
> And freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

Words are notoriously cheap. The latest illustration of this truism is furnished by the Democrats of Pennsylvania. In their late State Convention they made a formal tender of "lasting gratitude" to the soldiers of the Union. What, and how much, they meant thereby can be inferred from the coarse, pitiful and indecent manner in which most of their journals are now dealing with Gen. Geary.—Pittsburg Gazette.

Democracy in Pennsylvania and Oregon is the same thing this year. In both States they make a tender of their "lasting gratitude" to the soldiers, and in both they revile every soldier who comes within range of their foul batteries of vituperation.

Hon. George L. Woods, Union candidate for Governor, arrived in the city on Saturday and called on us yesterday. He is looking well, and is in excellent spirits. He goes to Oregon City to-day.

We had a call yesterday from Hon. E. N. Cooke, our worthy State Treasurer. He reports that the prospects are good for our usual overwhelming majority in Marion county.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO MAY 13.

Mexican Affairs—New York Collector—Carpenters' Strike.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Herald's Washington special says "the French Minister explains that the French troops reported as having passed Havana, en route for Vera Cruz, are taking the place of those whose terms are expired, and who are invalid. The Evening Post says Santa Anna arrived at Elizabethport, and is accompanied by several with Americans. It is understood the object of his visit is to unite efforts with the liberal party in Mexico. He declares he is not seeking personal power, but will place himself under the lead of Juarez. Official documents have been placed in the hands of Seward by Minister Romero, showing that Santa Anna was a firm advocate of monarchical government in Mexico, and is now an active out of Maximilian.

Collector Smith will assume his office on Monday

The Ship carpenters and Caulkers strike continues and master builders offered a reward of $5,00 for the arrest and conviction of parties who have assaulted or may assault men who have gone to work

The Indictment and approaching Trial of Jeff. Davis.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Judge Underwood who arrived yesterday morning from Norfolk with a copy of the indictment against Jeff Davis for treason, was in consultation this day with Attorney-General Aulstan, Speed being temporarily absent in Kentucky. It is currently stated that Jeff will be tried on this indictment when the United States Circuit Court reassembles at Richmond, to which place it is now adjourned to meet early in June that Chief Justice Chase will preside and that Attorney-General Speed will be assisted in the prosecution by Ex-Governor Clifford, of Maine, and Mr. M Evers of New York. The text of the indictment is not yet made public. It is said to be similar to the bill reported by the Grand Jury of Alexandria some months since, which the government did not prosecute. Judge Underwood's charge to the grand jury on Tuesday, May 8th, clearly sets forth their duty to act fearlessly, even though their fidelity might bring threats, enemies and murderous assaultes as had been the case with a previous grand jury. To this connection he adverted to his charge to the grand jury preceding them, and said he would not express himself now as he believed they all knew the sentiments he had expressed. Since then peace had been declared, the writ of habeas corpus restored; recently President Johnson had expressed a desire that no such subordinates as Wirz should be brought to punishment for treason, but that the chief of traitors should be tried, it was against these leading offenders that he would have them act, and punish the principals and not the tools. It had been decided that such offenders must be tried in Virginia. At the North there had been much complaint of the tardiness shown in bringing them to trial. The delay had been unavoidable. There was no need of further delay however, and he hoped the time had come when it would be known here that treason was held here as a crime meriting the highest punishment. He urged that the most of the people of the State who sided with rebellion and took up arms could not be held accountable for treason. Those who had imposed upon the credulity and ignorance of the masses, and incited them to rebel against the Government he would have punished. There was no obstacle in the way of bringing indictments against all the leaders in this rebellion, paroled prisoners, as well as the unparoled.

Judge Underwood announced that he thought Justice Chase would be in attendance to preside in June. The grand jury then retired and on Thursday brought in an indictment against Jeff. Davis when Judge Underwood adjourned the court to Richmond

The judiciary committee who have been making inquiries as to what evidence exists in regard to Jeff Davis' complicity in the assassination of Lincoln, have been unable to get any responses from the Secretary of State showing the reasons for the famous proclamation of May, 1865. It is understood that the committee will call upon the President before making a report to the House

Fenian Affairs in New York.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The late O'Mahony headquarters in Union Square has been closed and the secretary of Jos Stevens is in charge of the building. It is asserted that O'Mahoney's treasury contains less than $200. Although Stevens is making every effort to effect a reconciliation between rival sects of the brotherhood, the work will not be easy, while seeking the co-operation of the Roberts party, which is at present the most potent of the two. He has carefully abstained from recognizing the Fenian Senate. Stephens issued an order to-day calling on all exiles in the United States to subscribe toward the movement in Ireland, and send the money to him at once at his headquarters, Metropolitan Hotel.

Fire at Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

CHICAGO, May 13.—A fire at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, destroyed thirty buildings in the business part of the city. Loss $100,000

Receipts of Revenue—Losses by the Banks

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The receipts of internal revenue during the week amounted to upwards of $4,250,000, and customs receipts to $2,750,000, making a total of $7,000,000. The Government will lose between $200,000 and $300,000 by the failure of banks in western Pennsylvania, holding deposits. Those banks were ruined by the failure of Culver, Penn & Co., oil operators

Foreign News.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Steamers City of Paris and Germania arrived bringing advices from Queenstown to May 3d. Contrary to a rather general expectation the British Ministry rallied to regain the close vote on the reform bill as equivalent to a defeat.

Gladstone announced in the House of Commons that the franchise bill and the bill for the re-distributing of seats, would be introduced on the 7th, first both would be considered together. In answer to an inquiry as to where the Government would stand by the bill, he said as long as the bill stands we stand. If it falls we fall. The liberals say that the basis is now plain, and that liberal members must now face the simple question without the protection of an evasive Amendment

The Jamaica commission have arrived at home. Nothing is officially made known as to their report. The Times anticipates it will justify martial law, but censures the subsequent proceedings. A police constable had been shot in Dublin by the Fenians

The German question continues warlike. Both Austria and Italy are decidedly menacing. Both governments deny aggressive designs, but both are represented as vigorously preparing for war. The Italian parliament promptly voted authority to the government to raise means for the defense of the country. A popular meeting had been held at Naples in favor of the government. Warlike enthusiasm prevails throughout Italy

In view of war it is asserted that the Italian government has called out 150,000 men. The Austrian force in Venice is 150,000.

The Florence correspondent of the London Press says, there can be no doubt that the Italian government desires war as the only means of extrication from an exceedingly false and difficult situation. Austrian and Prussian relations show no improvement. A Berlin dispatch talks of the probability of an increased armament by Prussia.

In London the funds and securities were depressed

Napoleon presided at a special council of the Ministry on April 30th, as report says, to consider the Austrian proposal, that Austria and Italy should simultaneously disarm. One rumor says it was determined at the meeting to prevent Italy taking the offensive, and to insist on the adoption of the proposition.

The following is the very latest news by the City of Paris, telegraphed to Queenstown, under date of Liverpool, May 3d:

The intelligence from Germany and Italy continues exciting, and the armaments are vigorously pressed forward.

The Italian fleet had left Genoa, destination unknown

The Austrian iron-clads, it is said, have received orders to put to sea. Their destination is believed to be the Baltic.

A telegram from Berlin says the reply of the Austrian Government to the last Prussian dispatch received, dated April 30th, states that Austria will withdraw into the interior the troops now on the Prussian frontiers, but will at the same time continue her armaments against Italy

The Prussian troops on the frontiers are said to have advanced nearer to Austrian territory.

An unauthenticated rumor in Vienna says Austria intends to prepare a European Congress

Rumors of a ministerial crisis were current at Vienna. The Saxon Minister of Foreign Affairs is said to have returned an evasive answer to the Prussian summons to disarm

A Berlin telegram of May 1st, says it is believed the Prussian armament will shortly be increased

A reply dated April 29th to the Austrian Government, has been sent to the Prussian ambassador at Vienna, stating that Prussia does not agree to the Vienna cabinet proposals in reference to the duties. It lays special stress on the community of interests of Prussia and Italy, and gives an evasive answer to the Austrian proposals for disarmament. No immediate rupture between Austria and Prussia is, however, expected, as Austria will submit proposals to the Federal Diet, but affairs continue critical

The Vienna Press of May 1st, states that negotiations have been discussed by the Prussian cabinet and a special envoy from Italy continues (?)

The official Vienna Gazette publishes a notice that an increased number of army surgeons will be required

In a circular dispatch to Italian representatives at foreign courts, Den Lamar states that the moment when the disarmament of Austria and Prussia was expected, Italy saw herself directly menaced by Austria who increased her armaments and gave them in Venice an overtly hostile character towards us, therefore it became indispensable for the security of the Kingdom that both land and sea forces should be increased without delay in taking the military measures required for the defense of the country. The Government only acted in accordance with a state of things created by Austria

A Florence telegram says a proclamation has been issued by the Minister of War, calling to arms the soldiers who are on unlimited furloughs

A Mexican officer had arrived at Vienna on a special mission. He bore a letter from Maximilian, the purport of which is unknown

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

Valparaiso Bombarded and in Ruins.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—No Eastern news to day

The Pacific Mail Steamship Golden City which left Panama April 30th, where she connected with the steamer leaving New York April 14th, arrived here this morning. The news from South America is of the most startling character. Valparaiso has been bombarded by the Spanish fleet, and a good portion of the town laid in ruins. The following particulars are given in a Chilo letter, published in the Panama Star and Herald. On the 31st—the morning of the first natural bombardment—H. M. frigates Sully and Leander, with the Devastation, and steamship Nereus, left the bay to take anchorage outside. The American ships also had to get out of the way, and at about 8 A. M. the enemy's vessels began to take up position over against the town. The Resolution was placed opposite the railway station. The Villa de Madrid and Blanca 1,200 yards from the custom house. The Vencedora close in shore to destroy dwelling houses, and the Admiral's ship, Manzanilla remained outside signalling orders. At 9 A. M. the Blanca opened fire on the custom house to the cry of "Viva la Reina." The others followed, each selecting some point on which to pour its shower of destruction. For nearly three hours the fire was kept up without intermission. At 12:45 A. M. a shell from the Vencedora set fire to the bath adjoining the Hotel de la Union, and the flames rapidly spread in three streets, but the Vencedora did not desist, her shot continued to rain on that part of the town up to the last moment of the bombardment with terrible and fatal regularity. On the other side the custom house took fire at 11:34, but there was no cessation of firing from the ships. Indeed, the Spanish knew only one consideration, viz. that Valparaiso had been given up to them to wreak their vengeance on. At 3 P. M. the Numancia signalled to desist, and the vessels of the squadron drew off. The people of the town who had crowded the surrounding hills at once rushed into town to extinguish the fire.

It is difficult to write calmly and dispassionately in the sight of the smoking ruins of Valparaiso, the finest and most prosperous city of the west coast, destroyed by the Spanish fleet. The Spaniards drew close in shore, within 1,200 yards of the town, to save all trouble of aiming. From $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 worth of property was destroyed, nearly all of which belonged to English, Americans and other foreign merchants and all the commercial part of the town. Custom house, Government hall, lingo, public offices, railway stations, foreign houses which year by year had been extending and progressing, the route that the Spanish armament and retarding influence of war be among less felt have been crushed and trodden on by the hated Spaniard. The Spanish Admiral having received orders from Madrid to destroy burn and lay waste to the utmost in his power, all Chilean and Peruvian towns and property on the coast, on the 20th of March notified the Foreign representatives that in four days he would bombard the city. Against this every foreign representative protested in the most energetic manner.

The British residents were promised the protection of the English squadron. The American Commodore Rogers promptly placed his squadron for the protection of his countrymen, but Spain should the threatened bombardment be attempted and the representative of France was equally ready to take the responsibility of joining the American and English to prevent the atrocity that was feared but it the last the English Admiral drew back. He said he could not interfere except diplomatically, and that British interests must look out for themselves on shore. Commodore Rogers' bank boats undertaking active resistance to the Spanish fleet when the British Commodore had acceded from the position he had at first taken. Earnestly and most urgently did the American Charge de Affairs Gen. Kilpatrick, and Commodore Rogers labor to save the town, but in vain. While this was going on time was lost to no purpose and the day of the bombardment came on. The vessels still had their property in the custom house and the stores. The conduct of the British Admiral is loudly condemned by the English residents

We gather some further particulars concerning the bombardment from private sources. The following is from a letter dated Lima, April 14th, to Hodgson, Myer & Co., "Business all along the coast is completely paralyzed with the shocking intelligence of the bombardment of Valparaiso and as we are in daily expectation of the same suffering in our own port everything is in panic and confusion, and we are busily engaged in sending to sea our property in Callao from destruction

From other private letters to April 9th we learn that a week after the bombardment it was estimated that the total loss would range from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000. Many of the foreign merchants had taken the precaution to remove their goods to Santiago. The Government buildings were saved except the custom house, which was partially destroyed. A private letter says that the town was bombarded for two hours and a half. 2,000 shot were fired. The destruction of property will not exceed three million dollars. The foreign Ministers interceded but to no purpose. No fears are entertained for Callao. There are 400 guns in place, two floating batteries and two iron clads in the harbor. The general impression is, that after destroying a number of defenseless places, the fleet will return. At the date of the departure of the mails, much of the shops and stores as had not been destroyed were opened and business was resumed. The opinion prevailed that the Spanish fleet would turn their attention to other defenseless towns, but Callao has been put in such a complete state of defence, that the designs of the Spaniards could be effectually thwarted.

A private dispatch received to-day, states that the widow of Thomas Starr King was married in New York on the 12th of May, to Wm. Norris, Secretary of the California Steam Navigation Company

Additional—The Fort Goodwin Massacre Confirmed.

The news of the massacre at Fort Goodwin is confirmed.

PLANET MINE, Williams Fork, Arizona Territory, April 30th, 1866.—To the Secretary of the Planet Mine, San Francisco.—Dear Sir: I have this day been informed through a very reliable source, that Fort Goodwin, which is situated near one of the streams that run into the Gila, and about 60 or 70 miles from the Pima villages, has been attacked and captured by the Apaches. The garrison consisted of two companies of regulars of the third battalion fourteenth regiment, consisting of about one hundred men, of which only seven of the troops escaped. The remainder were murdered and scalped. The Apaches reaped a rich harvest in carry on their depredations. They carried off all the arms, ammunition and commissary stores. There was a reservation near this garrison, and a number of supposed friendly Indians were allowed to come in, but they caught the fourteenth napping and went through them. This may have a tendency to arouse the military department of this territory to immediate action against these murdering devils. This massacre occurred about ten days since.

Yours truly, CHAS HAMILTON,
Superintendent Planet Mine

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.—From the Medical Director of the General Hospital, Benton Barracks, near St Louis, March 8th, 1862.

"Messrs John I Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.:—Use of your far famed and most serviceable Troches is being made in the hospital of which I have charge, and with very beneficial and decided results in allaying bronchial irritation." For Coughs and Colds the Troches give prompt relief

MASS MEETING.—A mass meeting of the Union men of this city was held at the Rising Sun Hall last evening, for the purpose of organizing a Union Club. The meeting was called to order by J. N. Dolph, Esq., Chairman of the County Committee. T J Dryer, Esq., was chosen President of the meeting and Messrs E. D. Backenstos and S. A. Rowland, Secretaries. The chairman of the meeting made a short speech, after which Hon George L. Woods, elected next and stated that he had an unbreakable faith that Gen. Kelly, the opposing candidate for Governor, to be elected that he (Woods) would not argue the political questions of the day at other times or places than those of the meeting and therefore desired the audience to wait until Wednesday, when they should hear him at length. Other speakers, numbering ten or fifteen persons, then successively addressed the meeting. The permanent organization of the Club is as follows: President, T J. Dryer. Vice Presidents, L H Wakefield, A G Hovey, and Thomas Frazer. Secretaries, E D Backenstos and S A Rowland. Committee on Finance, D. Monastes, T J Carter, Wm. Stephenson, J. A. Waymire, D. A. Ireland. Executive Committee, Capt M. Crawford, C Reed, Dan. Hamilton, J. A. Strowbridge, E. J. Northrup. The roll of the Club was opened at the close of the meeting, and in a short time 100 names were enrolled. The rooms of the Club will be opened every day and evening during the week, from this time until the close of the contest. The Mechanics' Brass Band appointed upon the balcony of the Hall, at the opening of the meeting and enlivened the occasion with some of their choice music. We should like to give a short account of the several speeches made, but the want of time precludes the possibility of our extending the report further.

SPLENDID DENTAL ROOMS.—At the solicitation of a friend who takes much delight in the nice, or elegant improvements of our young and growing city, we yesterday visited the newly furnished dental rooms of Dr. C H Mack in Parish's brick block, corner of Washington and Front streets. We were agreeably surprised to find the rooms for the very perfection of nicety, and our ideas confirmed with those of our friend at once, to give the Doctor credit for his good taste in observing the advancement of the city so closely as to conform to the times by his means of materially in furnishing the new apartments so elegantly. He has a reception room 17 by 24 feet, a ladies' waiting room 17 feet square, besides a laboratory and other rooms on the second floor, and a room 24 feet square for the third story for furnaces, etc. The rooms of the second floor are large as any dental rooms in San Francisco, and the city will can boast of more refinement, in proportion to wealth and population, perhaps, than any other American city. We need not here refer to the operations of Mr Mack, presuming that our people are sufficiently well informed with regard to those particulars, which will account for his success in a business point of view. He is now assisted by Dr. J. H. Hatch, lately of San Francisco, a scientific gentleman, whose reputation is his work. One feature of these rooms we were very much attracted with, and that was the birds around there to soften the nonsense of pain when undergoing a difficult operation. Several fine cages of beautiful birds—including the Irish Black bird, Linnett, Nightingale, Finch, and Finches, it would seem, were sufficient to distract considerably from the most painful operation. We congratulate the Doctor and the public, on this new triumph in the progress of Portland.

IMPROVEMENTS ALONG THE MCADAMIZED ROAD.—The upper part of the city is improving very rapidly. Last summer at this time there was not a dwelling on the east side of the road above the Penitentiary. Now we find the road handsomely set with neat cottages, and up some of the lanes as many as eight houses have been built, and still they are going up. The improvements made by Mr. C. Dosch are very nice indeed. His lot has been finely graded and the residence is located in a very convenient spot. Mr Campbell, Mr. Beal, and others have made considerable improvements in the same vicinity. Mr Lincoln street, and between the McAdamized road and Front street, Mr Wm Courtney, Mr Wm. Hickards and others are preparing for permanent improvements. We think there is not a more desirable location in the city for a residence than that presented at the upper end of Front street, and we are pleased to see it being so rapidly built up.

RESCUED IN CRIME.—On Saturday evening, at an early hour, when all parents should know where their young children are—two little girls entered the store of Messrs. Goodman & Co and stole therefrom a package of goods. On leaving that place they next called at the store of Mr. DeWitt, where they still further performed their depredations, taking a pair of gaiters and a fan. The police were put upon track of the stolen articles, and succeeded in finding them. No manner of information as to who had taken the goods, and it was for a time a matter of some discussion whether or not to bring an action against the father and mother of the children for their participation in the crime, but finally, upon argument of friends, they consented to bring us suit, which in the end would have gratified some of the parties more than nine years of age. The matter has been a source to the parties concerned, and the benefit by it are worthy of imitation by not a few parents in this city who are criminally careless regarding their children.

ARREST.—An acquaintance met us yesterday on the street looking rather downfallen. He had often greeted us with items during a great dearth of local news, and feeling that we should be thankful for a favor, with a countenance betokening deep solicitude, we asked in an artful about the Rinderpest. "Know-nothing, importance for our items to be of a strict local character, though D of course understood the same as we did. He immediately examined him close, and marveled that a man about to starve down his cheek, when we felt sure of a case of the dreaded plague, but before any explanation followed he broke the spell by saying that if the subject of the Rinderpest had been exhausted we might be able to make a few comments concerning glycerine oil.

A FIRE.—An accident occurred to one of the hands of coal tar, being wheeled up to the cauldron for boiling yesterday, at the First street improvements, which came very near resulting in a bad fire. After burning the barrel, and throwing hot tar about rather miscellaneously for some time the fire was smothered without further damage. An accident quite similar occurred last Monday, on the first day of work in putting down the pavement on Front street. Once is enough, and men are more careful after a little experience.

SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.—The residence grounds, furniture, etc., of Capt. A. P. Ankeny, will be disposed of this day at public auction, by Auctioneer A. S. Richardson; and as it will be the most extensive sale likely to occur soon in the city, we wish to invite the attention of the public to it. The property is so fully described in Mr Richardson's advertisement, and the terms of the sale published to that we will not attempt any further notice of that particular. See advertisement, and be on the premises at the hour of the sale.

THE MECHANIC'S BRASS BAND.—In case our people had the Mechanic's Brass Band they could better appreciate its music. The Band, we are reliably informed, is in actual want of encouragement by the people of Portland, and unless they will receive in future the merit they are justly entitled to, the members say they are liable to abandon a project which it appears, is becoming a thankless task with them. Taking the same number of pieces, our home band compares very favorably with the Band of the 14th Infantry.

PACKING UP.—The convicts were not able to leave Portland last week, but yesterday we found Mr. Gardner, the worthy Warden, busily employed in packing up for a trip whither some day this week, possibly to-morrow, with the boys." We believe people generally, and those near the Penitentiary especially, will not regret the change very greatly.

SOME IN TROUBLE.—Last evening a number of boys assembled on the floor of the Nicolson pavement on First street for the purpose of playing ball. One of them came near when he knocked the ball through a large light of glass in the show window of Dekum & Bickel's Confectionery. The boys found themselves in trouble and quit the ball ground soon after. Parents are of course liable for such accidents.

THE NICOLSON PAVEMENT.—The elegant improvement in Front street was started yesterday under the most favorable circumstances. As the work was done yesterday it is acknowledged that it will be at least fifty per cent. better than that laid in 1856 on Front street. The contractor is now most propitious for the work, and the contractors are determined to push the job forward to speedy termination.

RECEIVER'S COURT.—J. J. HOFFMAN, J. May 14th, 1866. City vs. Ben. Harris, case of d. d., defendant sent to jail for ten days.....City vs E. J. Kinney, drunk and breaking windows in "China town," fined $20 and costs, and in default sent to jail for ten days.... City vs Peter Conner, fast riding, fine of $5 and costs, in default of which he was sentenced to three days in jail.

LIQUOR LICENSES.—Mrs. Lambert was yesterday arraigned upon the charge of selling liquor without a city license. The woman had paid her money for a license but had not obtained the necessary document and under the existing state of matters in this respect, cannot now get her license. She was fined a mere nominal fine, and the Court will order that the money deposited by her for a license, be refunded.

I. O. O. F.—Several representatives to the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F., from Salem, Albany Dallas and other points south, were in town last evening and started this morning for the Dalles to attend the annual communication of the Grand Lodge, commencing Wednesday the 16th inst.

UNION CLUB ROOM.—There is an excellent reading room established in the Union Club Rooms, and we are requested to state that the committee will consider it a favor if persons will take an interest in the matter of donating books, papers, periodicals, etc., to the Club, which will be quite acceptable.

THE VANCOUVER BOAT.—The steamer Rival, of the P T Company's line, has been chartered to run to Vancouver for the present, while the engines of the steamer Fashion and Troup are being repaired.

A MIXED MATTER.—The question of ownership to a pair of horses, claimed by Messrs. Tidd & Wyman and a Mr. Taylor, will be tried before Justice Anderson to-day.

THE CRESCENT STEAMER.—The steamship Sierra Nevada will sail from San Francisco for Portland on Thursday, May 10th, day after to-morrow.

W. U. TEL.—There is a message at the telegraph office for G. W. Chenoi.

ARREST.—Wm. R. Hill was arrested yesterday on a charge of assaulting an old man named John Graham.

NOTICE.—C. H MACK has removed his Dental Office to Washington Street, corner of Front, in Parrish's Block. ap24dawlm

State Items.

Henry E. Whitman committed suicide in Polk county on the 6th inst.

The Mountaineer is hereafter to be issued as an evening instead of a morning paper.

A correspondent at Canyon City, writing to us, says: We have the strongest assurances from all parts of the county that the county ticket, with the State ticket will lend the so called Democratic ticket 275 to 325 votes in Grant county.

The citizens of the Dalles held a meeting last night for the purpose, as expressed in the call, of "considering and devising means to put a stop to the constant Indian depredations that are being committed on the Canyon City Road.

First Lieutenant William Grant, of Captain Williams Company of Oregon Infantry, some time ago tendered his resignation and it has been accepted by General Hallock, commanding this military division. Grant enlisted in Captain Lafollett's Company, was appointed Orderly Sergeant, and evincing fine soldierly qualifications, was promoted to a 1st Lieutenancy.

The Copperhead ticket for Marion county is as follows. State Senators—John F Miller, O. M. Whitney. Representatives—M. L. Savage, C B. Bellinger, Geo. M. Steund, John T. Smith, F E Eldridge. Judge—Milton Shannon Clerk—Dan. H. Murphy. Sheriff—Wm. J. Horren. Commissioners—Charles Swegle, Lewis Griffith. Treasurer—Preston Hamilton Assessor—George S Downing. School Superintendent—D. F. Brown Surveyor—Wm. P. Pugh. Coroner—J. E. Clark Several of these nominees have already declined

A Canyon City letter in the Mountaineer of Sunday, 13th inst, contains the following account of an atrocious murder by Indians between Canyon City and Elk Creek. On the 3d inst, John Witmer, a German, residing on the middle Fork of John Day, near the Elk Creek mines, was murdered by the savages, while on his way from Canyon City to his home. He had two horses packed with oats, potatoes and a plow, and when about eight miles from town was attacked by a party of Indians, (number unknown,) and after being chased about a quarter of a mile, was slain, with twenty-three arrow wounds. His murderers dragged the corpse some fifty yards from the road, and stripped it of most of its clothing; but were probably alarmed by the approach of a gentleman of this place, who was on his way to the Middle Fork.

STIFF AND SPRING POINT MINING SHOVELS For sale at E. J. NORTHRUP & CO.'S.

S. T.—1866.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required

They purify, strengthen and invigorate
They create a healthy appetite
They are an antidote to change of water and diet
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are refreshed nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U S Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spirits as and dealt out as such. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk is an imposter. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U S Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c, who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH "But how?" you ask; We answer, 'tis an easy task;
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day.
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the frame as one,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with unfound time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease to won?"
"HOSTETTER'S DITTERS," we reply,
IS HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-laist the heavy air.
Drink not inanimate the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If necessary fall you ply,
Nature you must sustain—or die—
For when polluted from exercise
For artificial aid she cries
Medicinal ground purpose and intent
Is thus obeyed evil to prevent
And if you'll be relieved or spared
From this last crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the surest antidote

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be fortified with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspeptic pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind;
Agues, that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent alone but cure

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea-sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households lone, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And settlers, of wet, marshy ground.
To feeble types of fragile build,
To young and middle aged, and old,
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 635 AND 637 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his marks, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of G econsumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO MAY 8.

Foreign News Continued

Owing to a defection in the liberal ranks from the unseating of several liberals for election bribery, the opposition journals assert there will be an actual majority against the bill. The London Star calls for a dissolution of Parliament, and an appeal to the country in case of a ministerial defeat.

The bill abolishing the declaration of conformity to the liturgy of the Church of England by Fellows of the Colleges, passed the committee of the whole in the House of Commons on the 24th, by 208 against 196.

Private telegrams to the Paris Countour assert that a specific arrangements have been completed between Austria and Prussia, the latter power assenting to the Austrian proposal for a mutual disarmament. The Gazette, of Berlin, confirms this asserting that all danger of war in Germany has been removed. The Paris Constitutionnel accepts the news as correct.

The London Times was hoaxed by forged letters from the foreign office, in its announcement of the 21st of the withdrawal of the Ministers from Berlin and Vienna.

The attitude of Austria and Italy continues menacing. The concentration of Italian troops at Bologna caused Austria to take precautionary measures.

A Berlin telegram says: The report of a treaty of alliances between Prussia and Italy is absolutely unfounded. The rumor of the aforesaid treaty and a consequent engagement near Rovigo, has proved false.

A Florence journal says, that the Austrian Government has ordered all the land and naval forces at Vienna to be placed on a war footing by the close of May, and on an extended concentration of troops was to take place in the province of Regina.

The Vienna cabinet is said to have addressed a circular to the Prussian and other courts, informing them that the Austrian armaments are rendered necessary by the proceedings of the Italian Government. The dispatches add that Austria, relying upon the love of the Prussian King considers any measures of defense against Prussia unnecessary.

It is asserted that the Emperor of France had declared that he will in no way assist Italy in case of attack.

London, April 27.—The latest news from Germany is that Prussia objects to disarming while Austria continues her armaments on the Italian frontier.

HALIFAX, May 7.—The steamer China has arrived with dates to April 28th. The steamer Scandinavia arrived at Liverpool on the 23d of April, with the passengers of the City of Washington, which having disabled her machinery proceeded to Liverpool under sail.

The reform bill passed the House of Commons by five majority. The German news is conflicting. There is considerable uneasiness in regard to the relations of Austria and Italy, Italy appearing to have warlike intentions.

London, April 28.—Evening—Consols 89⅝@89⅞; 5-20s 69¾@70¼.

NEW YORK, May 7.—In the House of Commons, April 26th, the debate on the reform bill continued. D'Israeli made a long speech at 3 o'clock in the morning. A division took place, the vote for the bill being 318 against 313—Government majority 5. The papers generally regard the vote as a Government victory only in name, but really as a defeat.

Congressional.

Mr. Trumbull offered the following substitute for an amendment to the Post Office bill. That no person exercising or performing any duties of an office which, by law is required to be filled by the advice and consent of the Senate, shall, before confirmation, receive compensation for his services, unless commanded by the President to fill a vacancy occasioned by death, resignation or the expiration of the term during the recess of the Senate, or since, its last adjournment.

Mr. Doolittle said the President had not removed any one from office for opinion's sake, but to make way for soldiers; he had been extremely liberal in respect of opinions.

The House refused by yeas 61, nays 82, to postpone the special order, being the reprehensible clause of the report of the reconstruction committee.

Mr. Stevens proceeded to address the House, saying that the proposition fell short of his wishes, but it was all that could be obtained in the present state of public opinion. On careful survey of the whole ground, the committee did not believe that the seceded States could be induced to ratify any proposition of more strength than this. He repeated that nine States were utterly repudiated, and he scouted the idea that any State but in the Union should be consulted. This question, referring to the constitutional amendment fixing the basis of representation, which failed some time ago in the Senate, he said, was slaughtered by pedantic criticisms, by ultra-rightEous Republicans, and unrighteous Copperheads, and this faction has postponed, perhaps for ages, the salvation of the colored races.

Mr. Blaine said that the third section, which denies franchises until the 4th of July, 1870, was a violation of good faith toward those whose pardons were within the laws of the amnesty proclamation, and who have been pardoned. He asked Mr. Stevens for an explanation. Mr. Stevens admitted that the pardon absolved the crime. Mr. Blaine suggested that it be appended. The point made by Mr. Blaine and reluctantly admitted by Mr. Stevens, which seemed to be well taken, created considerable stir in Republican ranks. The members drew near and evinced great interest. Messrs. Garfield, Thayer, Kelly, Smith, Shenck and others' names are on the Speaker's table, who will follow in order before the vote, which it is hoped will be ready on Friday.

In the evening the House debated the Internal Revenue bill, and squelched all amendments to the section exempting cotton 3 cents a pound.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—In the Senate Mr. Chandler introduced a bill to regulate the transportation of nitro-glycerine, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Andrews introduced a bill to regulate appointments and removals of Federal officeholders, which was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Grimes offered a resolution which was adopted, instructing the finance committee to report a bill for providing that no public officer shall deposit his funds, except in the sub-Treasury.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Senate finished the debate on Trumbull's amendment to the Post Office Appropriation bill. Mr. Nye commented severely on the President's policy and appealed to the Senate to stand firm so that what was done should be well done. Doolittle spoke in reply to what the spirit of insulting violence toward the South, [illegible] Nye how many rebels he would have tried, either by military commission or civil courts. Nye replied he would hang enough to make treason odious, to make good the power of the President. Doolittle asked how many. Nye replied five or six. He would not have [illegible] so long. He would have hanged him in a hotbed of the grand Union army when they were [illegible] here. Now he supposed he would try him at the bar of this and the President was not responsible [illegible] the trial of Jeff. Davis. It was admitted that it was not a proper trial, and the judge of [illegible] had so far refused to try him. There [illegible] suffrage party, led by Sumner, and the [illegible] education party, led by Stevens, of Pennsylvania, [illegible] Nye, he might say, the universal hangers [illegible] Nye, and universal amnesty and universal [illegible] led by Stewart.

[illegible] after speeches by Messrs Hardell, Stephens, [illegible], Bealey, Banner, Farnsworth, Rogers, Dawes and [illegible], all of whom, except Banks and Beckley, opposed the third section of the constitutional amendment, while Democratic speakers opposed the whole proposition, Wilson closed the debate. He said he should be sorry if the third section was stricken out, because then before any portion of the amendment could be put in operation the other side of the House would be filled with yelling secessionists and approving copperheads. Give it, therefore, to be considered, the third section or give us nothing. Do not mock us with a pretense of the amendment, which throws the Union into the hands of its enemies. Mr. Stevens, at 3 o'clock, moved the previous question, which resulted, ayes 90—nays 37, the Democrats voting aye in order to prevent an amendment, particularly of the third section. On the question, "Shall the main question be now put?" the House voted, ayes 84—noes 79—the Democrats again voting affirmatively. By this time the galleries were crowded, and as the vote progressed the greatest interest and excitement was manifested. The result was then announced—ayes 128, noes 37—and the Speaker declared the joint resolution passed amid considerable applause. The evening session has been dispensed with until further orders.

The Senate in executive session confirmed the nomination of Mr. Smythe as Collector of New York, Gen. Knipe Postmaster at Harrisburg, and T. M. Dodd, Indian Agent for New Mexico. The President has nominated Peebles, editor of the Madison, Wis., Journal, Consul to Rotterdam.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The Senate further debated Trumbull's amendment to the Post Office appropriation bill and finally rejected it; ayes, 19, noes, 33. Several days have been consumed in consideration of this measure and the question will be renewed at some future day. The Henderson bill, which involves the same object, has been sent to the Judiciary Committee for examination.

The constitutional amendment which passed the House yesterday was read in the Senate to-day, and on motion of Mr. Fessenden was placed on the calendar for future discussion. When it comes up in the Senate Mr. Stewart will offer his universal amnesty for universal suffrage as a substitute.

The Senate adjourned to-day until Monday.

The House will hear resumed business before the middle of the week as many of the members have gone home and workmen are engaged fitting up the hall for summer.

The Senate, in executive session, confirmed the nomination of General Sickles as Minister to Hague.

The Senate Finance Committee reported back the nomination of ex-Governor Johnson as Collector of Internal Revenue at Pittsburg, with recommendation that the name be not confirmed. It was laid aside for future action.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Times Washington correspondent says: There was a clear majority on the Republican side of the House in favor of striking out or changing the third section of the Constitutional Amendment, but Stephens came to Stevens' rescue and ordered the main question, whereupon the Republicans hauled in line and passed the whole resolution. Just as the previous question is unknown in the Senate, it will undoubtedly be put in a proper shape there, and the House will ultimately agree despite the efforts of the factions at both extremes.

The Evening Post expresses in an editorial the hope that the Senate will judiciously peruse this proposition and present to the States a measure in whose justice and propriety there can be no doubt.

Contraband Cotton Products.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Department of State has been officially informed by the Spanish Government that local products of Chili declared contraband by the Spanish Admiral, will only be considered contraband when being dispatched from Chilean ports, for the enemy's ships.

Land Patents.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office during the month of April, issued patents for California claims aggregating to 67,630 acres, and for Oregon patents covering 87,857 acres.

General Ingalls Coming West.

General Rufus Ingalls has been ordered on an inspection tour of the military posts of the Pacific States and territories.

The Government loses about half a million dollars by the failure of the Merchants' Bank.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The Commercial's Washington special says: The Secretary of War has ordered Gen Terry to regard the President's peace proclamation as doing away with the martial law in Virginia.

Conference of Union Members of Congress—Appointments.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—There was an informal meeting of a good many Republican Senators and Representatives to-day, to see if some action could not be had in the Senate to strike out the 3d section of the Constitutional amendment, which disfranchises rebels from voting for Federal officers.

Major Walter H. Scaton, formerly of Gen Grant's staff, has been appointed collector of the port of Chicago, vice Logan deceased, and Geo. O. L. Mann collector of Internal revenue at Chicago, vice Mr Schoucker, removed.

Revenue Matters at the South.

The Internal Revenue Bureau acting under the general law, requires all citizens of the South to render income returns for the year 1864, no matter if 1865. Some of the rebel officers dwelling at the north, have sent in the returns, and are surprised that the nations received by them of the Confederate army, are estimated at forty cents per dozen.

The late Bank Failure

The Merchants' National Bank failure is still undergoing investigation both by the Treasury and War Department.

The bank received $702,312 of Government funds, of which $303,181 were deposited between the 30th of April and the 1st of May when the bank failed. Boyer & Co., of Baltimore owed the bank $780,000, and their failure has involved at least four Baltimore banks in heavy losses. One of the banks to the tune of loans $500,000; another $150,000—a heavy loss for a private bank. Another loss was Cooper's [illegible] of cotton, figuring the interest thereon to the owners at still a net realize $50,000 from sale from the Merchants Bank and Bank, exclusive of the $100,000 sold to secure for Government deposits. This failure will probably be fatal to the system of issuing National Banking notes in denominations.

The reported capture of Fort Gaines, Alabama, called comment, and Capt. J Ross Browne, the well known traveler now here, makes a statement showing the report highly improbable.

Indictment of Jeff. Davis.

NEW YORK, May 11.—A letter from Norfolk Va says District Attorney Chandler had received from Washington the indictment against Jeff Davis, which he would lay before the grand jury. Mrs Davis will remain at Fortress Monroe until the case is finally disposed of by trial or pardon, and is making arrangements to keep house in the fort. Meanwhile she visited Norfolk to purchase supplies, when the people all crowded upon her presents of all kinds and showed active sympathy in her behalf.

NORFOLK, Va, May 11.—Late yesterday afternoon the grand jury of the United States Circuit Court, brought in a true bill against Jefferson Davis for treason, and the Court adjourned to meet on the first Tuesday in June, at Richmond. Judge Underwood went North last night, carrying a copy of the indictment.

Tennessee Legislature.

NASHVILLE, May 10.—The Tennessee House of Representatives defeated the bill conferring civil rights on free negroes. An amendment that the law should not be construed to permit colored men to sit on juries, was adopted by a vote of 30 against 27. Another amendment that colored children should not attend school with the white children, was adopted by a close vote. The bill then passed by a vote of 41 against 34.

Intense excitement exists in Nashville, Memphis and Chattanooga concerning the proposed metropolitan police bill conferring on the Governor the appointment of police boards for each city. The joint select committee heard arguments to-day, including Gen. Thomas, who advised the measure, and finally voted 10 against 9 to report the bill with a recommendation that it pass not over the franchise measure, has occasioned much excitement.

From Central and South America.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The steamer New York, from Aspinwall the 2d, has arrived. She brings Cuba mails of the 29th of April. The news from South America is unimportant, matters having remained quiet. All the Spanish fleet, except the Bernaguera, has sailed for Northern ports.

At Callao active preparations were making for the reception of the Spanish fleet by fortifying the straits.

The French steamer Le Plomee arrived at Havana on the 5th, from Vera Cruz with troops.

Railroad Loan Effected—The Memphis Riots.

CHICAGO, May 11.—The Union Pacific Railroad Company have negotiated through the banking house of John Cleve & Son for four hundred thousand dollars of their bonds at 90 cents.

General Pisk arrived at Memphis on Saturday and has ordered the immediate rebuilding of the negro school houses and churches burned during the riots, and that the costs be levied on the city. He advertises for one hundred colored mechanics and laborers. No report has yet been made by the Commissioners appointed to investigate the riots. Numerous witnesses are being examined.

Death of Sterling King.

Sterling King, the notorious rebel spy, who was arrested a few weeks since for horse stealing, and who created some sensation by declaring himself the assassin of Mr Lincoln, died on the boat between Louisville and Cincinnati on Wednesday, having literally starved himself to death, having eaten but five meals in forty-six days.

Dr. Gwin hesitates to "Commit Perjury."

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—The friends of Dr. Gwin is doubtful as to his hesitates to take the oath and says he never intended to violate his allegiance. The people are very indignant.

Arrival of Stephens, Fenian Head Centre.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Stephens, the Fenian head centre, arrived yesterday and various plans are being made for public demonstrations which shall kindle anew the Fenian fires dampened by the Eastern fiasco and general feeling. Col O'Mahoney resigned his position as head centre of the Fenians this morning, which was accepted by the chief executive, Stephens. Mr. Killian has been removed as Treasurer.

Cholera—Departure of Minister McCook's

The quarantine surgeon reports one new case of cholera. No deaths in day. 85 cases are in the hospital. The city is unusually healthy.

Judge Field and General McCook, Minister to the Sandwich Islands, sailed for San Francisco to-day.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The Eastern line was out of order beyond Laramie last night. No dispatch received. The line is again in good working order to-day.

Judge Botts concluded his argument in the Moore-Bodleman case yesterday, after which the case was submitted. Judge Hoffman intimated that he would render his decision about the first of June.

John O'Grady, charged with complicity in the robbery of the Rock House safe, was placed on trial yesterday. Several witnesses had been examined by half past 12 o'clock last night.

A fire broke out on the premises occupied by Marquis Hoyt, commission merchant, over Frank & Co's station house store, on Sacramento street. Goods greatly damaged by water.

The new rolling mills on Mission creek, the first in the Pacific States, have commenced operation.

The number of deaths in the city last week, amounted to 45.3.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Michael Canavan, proprietor of the Bee Hive store, on a charge of concealing his goods and property, with the intention of defrauding creditors. For a number of years Canavan has been engaged in business in this city, and been considered one of the staunchest men in the community. About a week ago, rumors obtained credence that he was insolvent. Creditors became clamorous for payment, and attachments amounting in the aggregate to nearly fifty thousand dollars were instituted, and attachments placed in the hands of sheriff Davis, who was astonished to find so little goods when he expected to find a ship load. The sheriff pushed enquiries, and discovered nearly a hundred thousand dollars worth of goods in places not exactly public. Believing that Canavan intended to defraud them, some of his creditors went before Justice Barstow and swore out warrants.

There was nothing later received from Arizona, regarding the reported massacre at Fort Goodwin, by last night's mail steamer. It is believed to be false. Major Van Bentalen and others, who have been at the fort quite recently, state that there were four grand posts besides the main fort or post No 1, and that surprise was hardly possible. The force on duty at the post at the time of the reported massacre, was composed as follows: Lieutenant Robert Pollock, commanding Company H, 2d California Infantry Volunteers; Capt. Jones Stewart, Artillerist Eidre, commanding Co K, 2d California Infantry Volunteers; Capt. W H Noyes, 2d Lieutenant Norwood Company A, 2d California Infantry Volunteers; 1st Lieutenant, J Winslow; 2d Lieutenant, M Magee, and one company New Mexican Cavalry, commanders names not remembered.

Weather to-day cool and pleasant.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The steamship Del Norte arrived this morning from Crescent City. Wm Welch, accused of committing the What Cheer House robbery some months ago, was acquitted to-day. A gentleman named Gilman, residing 16 miles from Stockton, was robbed of about $5,000 worth of jewelry on the 10th of March. Gilman had lived in Mazatlan for several years, and returned with his wife a short time before the robbery. Mrs. Gilman was visited by a woman whose acquaintance she made in Mazatlan known as Inez Rodriquez. Suspicion was of course directed to her, and on Thursday Jerome Myers, chief of the Stockton police, came to this city in search of her. He immediately procured the services of detective Chapelle, who found her on Jackson street. The first thing which attracted his attention upon meeting her was one of the shoes Gilman, on the night of the robbery, accused her of the robbery and upon searching her found nearly all the precious stones which had been removed from the settings, in a bag concealed under her skirts, and a lot of gold, being the settings beaten up to avoid identification. Sufficient of the property, however was found to fasten the robbery on her. Subsequently a male companion, giving his name as Theodore Pedler, was arrested, and some of the jewelry found on his person. Both parties were sent to Stockton yesterday.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the Sailor Boarding House, of A Johnson, 110 Sacramento street, damaging the premises to the amount of $1 100. Th y were insured.

Gold and Legal Tenders—Mining Stocks

The price of gold in New York yesterday, the 11th, was 129, legal tenders remain at 78¼@79.

The spring trade thus far has disappointed business men generally. The mining share market is inactive, with large operations in Ophir at an advance of $22 from the morning board. Yesterday Yellow Jacket also advanced $10, Gasher $5 Imperial $6, Choller-Potosi and Overman each $1.

The product of the Washoe mines, it is thought, will be largely increased, and the bullion for the current month, it is confidently asserted, will exceed that of April. The mines of California, particularly those in the Grass Valley district, are also said to be boasting remarkably well. The aggregate yield of the Forest and Grass Valley for the month of April, we are informed, exceed $55 000 from less than 1,000 tons, and the net profits about $4 000 or about $2,000 per share.

FROM THE NORTH.

VICTORIA, May 14.—General Steele and staff, who are on a tour of inspection around the Sound, arrived here yesterday and will remain a few days. The United States Revenue cutter Lincoln also arrived here on Saturday.

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS AT tended the invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
